Welcome to DC Summer Fun 2007

I am pleased to present the DC Summer Fun Guide for 2007. This is a wonderful collection of programs and opportunities designed to give the District's young people a summer full of engaging, interesting activities.

We believe the summer is a great time to explore your talents and interests. You can learn more about our city, try a new sport, dabble in drama, music or dance, help build strong ties within your community or discover a favorite new author. There is so much to do and so many ways to explore your potential! With over 150 summer programs and camps to choose from, you are certain to find one that suits your interests.

Summer employment is a key part of summer for many young people, and we have worked hard to ensure this experience is a rewarding one, opening doors to new career horizons. This is a shared responsibility for all of us – the employers as well as the employees. We know summer jobs are an important investment in the future of our city and our young people.

There are lots of programs to keep your learning skills in top form – innovative literacy offerings at the libraries, summer school and summer bridges programs to help you transition into elementary, middle and high schools. You can have a really good time this summer learning new things, and be in great shape when school starts in the fall!

The District is committed to the well-being of its citizens, so we offer a wide range of recreational programs and free summer meals all across the city. We know young people need to exercise and eat well to stay healthy, and we have great programs to provide nutritional meals and a variety of athletic activities to appeal to children and youth of all ages. The Departments of Health and Mental Health have a large number of clinics, services and hotlines that support young people in a number of ways throughout the year.

We are proud of all our agencies, community-based providers and supporters of the summer programs. As a city, we have all come together to provide young people with choices for this summer – we hope you make the most of these opportunities. And please write to me to let me know how you and your friends are spending your summer! I am very interested in hearing from you and having the chance to see things from your perspective.

I hope you have a fun, safe summer.

DC FREE SUMMER MEALS

HELP MAKE SUMMER A NUTRITIOUS AND HEALTHY EXPERIENCE FOR CHILDREN AND TEENS IN YOUR NEIGHBORHOOD!

Did you know that anyone ages 18 and below can receive FREE healthy and nutritious meals throughout the summer? There are approximately 370 Free Summer Meal locations across the city in parks and recreation centers, community centers, schools, churches, housing complexes and apartment buildings.

The program operates June 18 – August 31, 2007.

To find the closest DC Free Summer Meals site near you, please call 211 Answers, Please! at (202) 463-6211 or visit www.dcsummerfun.dc.gov.

Everyone wins with DC Free Summer Meals:

- Children have nutritious meals and a chance to interact with peers.
- Parents stretch food dollars.
- We all get safer and healthier communities when our childrens' physical and social needs are met.

We strongly encourage you to support the 2007 DC Free Summer Meals Program. You can support our summer food service program efforts by getting program and site information out to all eligible children and parents and by volunteering. Many of our summer food service locations have organized, well-run activities that will keep the interest of the children and teens and have them coming back to the site day after day.

The DC Children and Youth Investment Trust Corporation

CYITC supports summer programs provided by community-based organizations, churches, charter school and public schools by leveraging public dollars to encourage private investment in local communities. Keeping children and youth engaged over the summer help them retain learning from the previous year and get ready for the upcoming school year. Performing and theater arts, creative writing, crafts, sports and recreation will provide the skills and tools that are so important to the overall development of young people. Enrollment is limited, so call early for more information and application instructions.

Program Category

TSP = Summer Programs for Children and Youth
Community-based providers offering engaging, fun programs in neighborhoods across the District. Each program is unique, but they all provide a range of activities that help young people explore the world around them. All the programs include creative approaches to literacy, arts, recreation, science and lifeskills. Contact each program directly for enrollment information. Programs begin June 25th and run through August 3rd at DCPS sites and August 10th at CBO sites.

LNR = Late Night Recreation Programs
In partnership with the Department of Parks and Recreation (DPR), these community-based organizations are providing activities for young people ages 14-21 at recreation centers across the city. Programming is offered from 6 p.m. to 12 midnight Monday – Friday, June 25th – August 10th.

LS = Late Summer Programs
The Trust is partnering with the State Education Office to support the provision of summer programs in late August – note the date for individual programs. Each program is a Free Summer Meals site.

SYSC = Summer Youth Service Corps
These programs engage District youth ages 14 – 18 in service learning, entrepreneurial, performing arts or visual arts projects. Summer Youth Service Corps projects evoke civic pride and support local community needs.

PMT = Project My Time
This summer, middle school students and rising middle school students can enroll in Project My Time at three sites: Lincoln, Hart and Kelly Miller. Project My Time is year-round program that offers a great variety of activities for young people, including art, dance, music, sports, academic enrichment and homework help. Each school site has its own array of opportunities; contact the site director listed for more information. Join up now, and stay for the school year!

SUMMER READING PROGRAMS

IT'S ALL ABOUT READING! SUMMER FUN = KIDS + BOOKS

Summer Quest is a reading program that encourages children, ages 0-14, to read during non-school months. Summer Quest uses music, storytelling, magic and puppetry to show how entertaining reading can be. Activity guides offer a way to chart the student's reading success and make him or her eligible to win prizes. Registration is FREE. Sign up now.

SUMMER QUEST PERFORMERS

Alfredo Bess, "Fast Freddy the Clown" Reinforce your children's learning with the antics of Fast Freddy the Clown. His comedic magic presentation has audiences enthralled with his artistic talents and skills. This extraordinary performance is great entertainment for all ages.

Bill Mayhew, Storyteller Bill Mayhew has been a professional storyteller for over thirty years captivating audiences of all ages. His appetite for humor and laughter fuels the success of a memorable event.

Candace Wolf, Master Storyteller is a Storyteller-in-Residence with the Kennedy Center in Washington DC, as well as an innovative teacher and oral historian. Her high-energy, motivational show demonstrates the poetic and dramatic use of oral language as she spins amazing stories collected from cultures around the world.

Jali - D, "The Drum Talker" David Foreman is a percussionist and performance poet who combines the education of rap with African style drums. The creator of "Rappercession" will inspire, delight and entertain his audience of all ages.

Postcards from a Reading Road Trip Postcards from a Reading Road Trip is a summer reading program offered at all D.C. Public neighborhood libraries. Children will be offered a beginner workshop on digital photography and make use of digital photographs to produce postcards of the literacy activities attended and books read during the summer.

Washington Nationals, "Become an All-Star Reader!" This community collaboration will raise the awareness of the benefits of summer reading. The "All-Star" activities demonstrate how easy it is to make reading an enjoyable daily habit. Every D.C. Public Library location will offer Washington Nationals summer reading logs. A National baseball player will visit four library locations. Recommended for ages 5 to 14.

Reading Is Fundamental® works to build a literate nation by helping young people discover the joy of reading. This year marks the District of Columbia Public Library's 5th year with the book distribution program. Within the months of June and August 2007, children and young adults will have the opportunity to select one new, high-quality age appropriate book at each distribution. Books given out will target reading levels from pre-K to 12th grade. Along with motivational and reading enhancement activities, all D.C. Public Library locations will offer this national literacy initiative to distribute books to children and young adults.

Holla'Back@DCPL keeps teens, ages 12-14, reading during the summer. The program is designed around this age group to motivate young adults to both explore books and write about what they read. Exciting workshops and prizes are also part of the program. Registration is FREE. Sign up now.

HOLLA' BACK WORKSHOPS

The Wright Stuff - Journey back in time to witness the ways in which scientific inventions have given us the ability to fly. This workshop is presented by the Maryland Science Center.

What's the Matter? Chemistry with Fizz, Foam & Flash - This show explores the states of matter, physical changes, and chemical reactions through thrilling experiments. This workshop is presented by the Maryland Science Center.

All That Drama
Experience drama through books, movies and self-expression.

Are You Being Played?
Electronic gaming and board games – self paced and tournament style.

Books-That-Are-Off-The-Hook
What makes a book "Off-The-Hook?" How can you have fun with books AND complete your assigned summer reading? Come to a library location near you and find out.

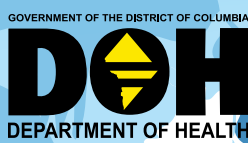

The District of Columbia Public Library is proud to bring Summer Quest and Holla' Back @ DCPL to your community. Check the library locations below to find a Summer Quest or Holla' Back program near you. # HEALTH SERVICES FOR CHILDREN AND YOUTH

The District of Columbia Department of Health (DOH) recognizes the importance of keeping our children and youth healthy and strong. Throughout the summer, DOH conducts various health education and outreach programs for District children and adolescents. DOH also provides health screenings, immunizations and many other comprehensive health services.

Immunization Clinics

Our clinics provide free immunizations to eligible children and adults through special walk-in evening clinics and community-supported events. The Immunization Program also conducts educational workshops, immunization medical records assessments, and communicable disease outbreak control investigations.

Healthy Summer Activities

The Department of Health events calendar provides information about a host of local events for District of Columbia residents and businesses. Call today to learn about healthy and safe activities for your children.

Maternal and Primary Care Administration

Information is available about dental services, eye care, the Washington Free Clinic, and other organizations that provide services for women and children.

Metropolitan Police Department

OFFICE OF THE CHIEF OF POLICE

300 Indiana Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20001

S.O.S. (Summer of Safety) 2007 Crime Prevention Program

Earlier this year, the Chief of Police appealed to local organizations, companies, members of the clergy and more with an S.O.S. The call for help was intended to hear from these groups, who could share with the police department a list of events each group would host during the summer months to reach out to the city's school-aged youth. The requirements were that the events be supervised and at little to no cost to the residents of the District.

Previously called, "40 Days of Increased Peace," this year, the Chief renamed the program the "Summer of Safety 2007" in order to extend the period from 40 days to the entire 73-day summer break for DC's youth. The community answered the chief's S.O.S. and provided the police department with a comprehensive list of diverse activities for all age groups. The police department is sharing that list with local parents and youth in an effort to prevent an increase in delinquency amongst youth due to summer-related boredom and lack of supervision.

Combined with the list of activities in this DC Summer Guide, the police department will provide a daily listing of summer events hosted by their own police lieutenants, as well as the police partners who responded to the chief's S.O.S. to provide outreach to youth. For the most current information, call (202) 727-8809 or visit www.mpdcc.dc.gov/sos and click "Summer of Safety 2007". Youth and parents will also be able to call 202-Im-Bored to hear the daily listing.

202-Im-Bored

The S.O.S. Program will begin on June 14, 2007, the last day of school in the District, and run through the last day of the summer vacation, Sunday, August 26, 2007. During this time, parents and youth can find information each morning about the day's supervised events by calling a special police hotline, 202-Im-Bored (462-6733) or visiting the website at www.mpdcc.dc.gov/sos and clicking on to "S.O.S. Summer of Safety". Information about 202-Im-Bored and the S.O.S. program will also be placed on MySpace© and YouTube.com. For more information, call (202) 727-8809.

District Police Camps

All seven police districts in DC will host a summer camp for local school-aged youth in their individual districts. The camps will operate Monday through Friday. They will include breakfast and lunch. Activities will focus on fun and educational field trips, sports, and motivational programs, featuring guest speakers. The camps will be run by trained officers who have worked throughout the school year as School Resource Officers (SROs).

For information on registration and costs, call (202) 727-8809.

Operation Prevent Auto Theft (OPAT) is a special camp for youth who have been arrested and charged with auto theft. It is a camp primarily directed towards community service, with a component that provides fun and educational activities designed for youth between the ages of 12 and 17. Most of the youth are selected through the courts.

For more information, contact (202) 576-6768.

Camp Brown, named after former police chief and co-founder, Ernest W. Brown, is operated through a partnership agreement between the Metropolitan Police Department and the Boys and Girls Clubs of Greater Washington. This year, one-week camp sessions will be held beginning July 9, through August 17, 2007. The camp is located about 80 miles south of Washington, DC in Scotland, Maryland. For 70 years, Camp Brown has been a place for school-aged youth between the ages of 7 and 13 to escape the busy city for a week-long vacation. The campers stay in wooded cabins on 168 acres of land alongside the Potomac River where they enjoy swimming, biking, fishing, listening to motivational speakers, and many other structured activities. Camp counselors include police officers who are trained to work with youth, as well as certified staff.

For information on the cost of the camp, call (202) 397-CLUB (2582), ext. 8190 or (202) 727-4381, or visit http://www.bgcgw.org/clubs/metro\_camp.html to download the application for the camp.

DC Public Schools Summer School PLUS!

“Bridges to Achievement”

The District of Columbia Public Schools is offering “Bridges to Achievement” a free, exciting and new morning and afternoon summer experience for students. This is not just Summer School, it’s Summer School PLUS! Students in grades 1 through 8 will have an opportunity to catch up and get ahead plus use technology and do fun projects. Students in grades 9 through 12 will have an opportunity to earn up to two Carnegie Units toward graduation plus use technology and engaging programs to advance learning. Students who are in headstart and up to age 12 will have the opportunity to attend DC Afterschool for All in the afternoon.

Plus, DCPS will also offer three “Bridging Programs” as part of Summer School to help students cross the Bridge to Achievement.

Kinder Bridges is an oral language and reading skill development program for kindergarten students. This Bridging program will be held in one class in at least 20 elementary schools.

Middle Bridges is a transition program for 300 elementary school students who are moving from elementary school into the middle/junior high school.

Summer Bridges is a transition program for 1300 middle school students who are moving from middle/ junior high schools to attend high school.

“Bridges to Achievement” is supported in the afternoon by DC Afterschool for All (DCAFA). (DCAFA) is a fun summer program including learning, arts, sports and community service opportunities. (DCAFA) is for students in headstart through age 12 and will be open in at least 30 DCPS schools.

The Department of Employment Services 2007 Summer Youth Program

The Passport-to-Work Summer Youth Program will place more than 11,000 District youth, ages 14-21, in temporary work experience and academic enrichment activities to help prepare them to compete in an increasingly competitive job market.

Registration began in January and ended in April. The six-week summer program operates from June 25 through August 3, 2007. Youth will receive worksite notification before the June start date.

The Passport-to-Work Summer Youth Program also features several unique initiatives offering specific training to youth interested in public and community service, careers in the building trades, and jobs in the private sector. Some of these initiatives require a separate application and interview process.

Frequently Asked Questions:

Q. What are the eligibility requirements for the 2007 Passport-to Work Summer Youth Program?

A. To apply for the program you must be a District resident, ages 14 - 21. Youth who are 13 years old must turn 14 by the start of the program, which is Monday, June 25, 2007.

Q. I am 21 years old and will turn 22 on June 25, 2007. Am I eligible to apply for the 2007 Summer Program?

A. No. Individuals, who turn 22 on or before the start of the program, Monday, June 25, 2007, are not eligible to participate.

Q. If I am selected for a summer experience, how will I be notified?

A. Notification of acceptance will be mailed to the address that appears on your application.

Q. How much will I be paid?

A. You will be paid the federal minimum wage of $5.15 per hour. However, individuals who are offered positions with the federal government or private sector companies may be paid at a higher rate.

- Mayor's Youth Leadership Institute is a year-round program designed to train District youth for leadership responsibilities in public service. Training begins during the summer and the program targets youth from age 14 through 17 – the transitional stage from high school to post-secondary education. Youth leaders are active in a variety of activities and special projects that allow them to sharpen and demonstrate their leadership abilities.
- Building Trades' Summer Youth Program is a six-week learning experience for young city residents, ages 16 to 18, who are interested in pursuing a career in the building trades. The program consists of classroom presentations, visits to various trade training facilities, and participation in career opportunities in the Washington area building trades.
- Private Sector Job Opportunities are available to older youth, 16 to 21, in various occupations. Youth must submit a resume and interview for temporary summer positions. Young workers are paid based on skill level, education, and the complexity of the assignment.

Q. I am a college student attending college outside of the Washington Metropolitan Area. Will I be able to register for the 2007 Summer Program after the Friday, April 27, 2007 deadline?

A. Yes. Registration deadlines are extended until Friday, June 1, 2007 for college students attending schools outside of the Washington Metropolitan Area.
